

Crossings Film Series: Stacie Dichsen

Stacie Dichsen attended her first Crossings Conference this past January, 2019. She came because she was looking for additional ways to study scripture and be challenged theologically. Hearing that each ear experiences the Word differently really stuck with her, causing her to be more mindful of how others are receiving the words she speaks.

She is excited to be going home with a challenge; to look at how the church needs to examine its boundaries and make it more welcoming for others to come in.
